THE GAZETTE.

THURSDAY EVENING, AUGUST 20.

Points in Cattle. In a recent work on cattle in their various relations to the shambles, the yoke and the dairy, written by Lewis F. Allen, a veteran breeder and a close observer of cattle, certain points are enumerated which should be considered by farmers, butchers and breeders in making their selections. Among the requirements are:

. 1st. A fine head, small and lean. 2nd. A broad, full and deep chest, giving room for well developed and vigorous lungs to SAMUEL HARTLEY, play. 3d. Good length, breadth and soundness of body, roomy and full from shoulder to hip, with two flanks, thus giving room for abundant action of the viscora or bowels, and expansion for the foetus, if in a female. 4th. Straight back, broad hips, and good length of loin.

5th. Fineness of bone and smoothness in the carcass generally. "All these," says Mr. Allen, "are indispensable, whether in an animal bred for propagating its kind, for flesh solely, an ox for labor or a cow for milk. The intermediate parts or points of the animals may be filled out to promote the object desired for the particular uses the creature is to be applied to; but all which we have enumerated are indispensable in making up a good animal."

The Delaware peach crop is a total failure. This fact is of more detriment to the State than is understood. It will prevent the building of the Delaware Bay, Dover and State Line Railroad, which is to connect a point in the bay opposite Dover with Chesapeake Bay, at the small expense of $200,000. At the point named (Mahon's ditch) there is the making of a port for vessels drawing twelve feet of water at low tide. Delaware Bay has no port of consequence at present, and the port contemplated would be of great value to her interestis.
